Recently, former Cowgirls came from all over to reunite with other former players and reminisce about their years as competing CSC Cowgirls.

The CSC Cowgirl Basketball Reunion was held during the annual Cowgirl Basketball Classic on Saturday, November 3rd, at the Miller’s Crossing Clubhouse.

Even though the reunion is a recent event, it looks to become quite a CSC tradition. According to Coach Eddie Kite, head coach of the Cowgirls, most of the former players attending this year’s event played in the early 80s and are anxious for the reunion to not only continue but to become even better. They would like to see Cowgirls from every decade attend the reunion. With this in mind, this year the former athletes formed a “grassroots” committee to plan next year’s event.

One decision that was made by the newly formed committee is to have the reunion every year on the first weekend in November during the Cowgirl Classic.

Project Pink Patrol

The winner of the “Project Pink Patrol” gift basket was Tammy Allen.

The cheerleaders thank everyone who supported the activities during Breast Cancer Awareness.

Have a great Christmas break! See you next semester.

CSC Child Development Program

Child Development is one of the programs that is offered by CSC. It is an in-depth study about the development of a child from conception to adolescence and takes part in three “core” courses that deal with working with families, guidance strategies, and teaching methods. In addition to these four core courses, there are also elective courses that can be taken by sophomores. There is also a required course where students demonstrate cumulative knowledge through portfolio, instructor observation, and written and oral assessment.

Students in this program are usually non-traditional students who are not only working full-time and going to school, but are also taking care of their own families. Students usually obtain their degrees within three to four years.

Many program and degree changes have taken place to update and strengthen the program. A “peer coaching” strategy plan has offered assistance to entry level students. Also according to Ms. Jan Cowan, “We are working toward accreditation through the National Association for the Education of Young Children.”

“If you enjoy young children and really want to make a difference in our world, this may be the career choice for you,” explains Ms. Cowan.

One of these former students is Mr. Darrell Russell, Vice-President of Customer Service at Armstrong Bank.

Mr. Russell is from Taft and attended CSC in 1980-82. Along with playing for the Cowboy basketball team, he also was a member of the Black Student Society. He credits CSC for preparing him as he furthered his education. “It helped me improve my study habits and it also made me more independent in terms of being away from home,” Russell said.

When asked about his favorite memory while attending CSC, Russell replied with a smile that it would have to be “passing all my classes and graduating.” He also remembers fondly “all the friends I made, and the relationships I developed for the rest of my life.”

Mr. Russell believes, “Connors State College is an outstanding institution for higher education that has stood the test of time.”

As CSC celebrates 100 years of education, the Collegian would like to recognize some of the many successful alumni who got their start at Connors State College.
